✓ 200 XP ▶

Knowledge check

5 minutes

Check your knowledge

1. What is GitHub Copilot? *

○ GitHub Copilot is an AI pair programmer that you can use to get code suggestions.

✔ GitHub Copilot is an AI pair programmer that you can use to get suggestions for whole lines or entire functions right inside your editor.

○ GitHub Copilot is OpenAI Codex, a new AI system created by OpenAI.

○ GitHub Copilot is a JavaScript public repository and is one of the best supported languages.

○ GitHub Copilot can write a comment describing logic and you can add your suggested code to implement the solution.

2. What are the supported integrated development environment extensions for GitHub Copilot? *

○ Visual Studio Code and Visual Studio

○ GitHub.com, Visual Studio Code, Visual Studio, Neovim, and JetBrains

○ Visual Studio Code, Visual Studio, Neovim, and JetBrains

✔ Correct! All of the IDEs listed have supported GitHub extensions.

3. What is GitHub Copilot X? *

○ GitHub's vision for the future of AI-powered software development.

✔ As the landscape of AI developer tools changes at lightening speed, GitHub wanted to ensure we remain at the cutting edge of innovation and improvements.

○ An Artificial Intelligence (AI) pair programmer that you can use to get suggestions for whole lines or entire functions right inside your editor.

○ A product focused on organizations to help them be more productive, secure, and fulfilled.

Next unit: Summary

Continue >